PORTLAND, OREGON: MONDAY, JUNE 8, 1874.
PRICE—TEN CENTS.

EASTERN NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Wife Murders.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., June 5.—T. Morrisey, living near Exeter, murdered his wife yesterday while in a drunken fit.

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., June 6.—John McDermott, a saloon keeper, who was constantly under the influence of liquor, went to the house of his mother-in-law, where his wife, who had left him on account of ill treatment, was staying, and begged her to return with him, which she agreed to do. On Monday he went away and returned shortly after with a navy revolver, and shot at his wife, who was nursing her babe. The bullet struck the babe in the back of the head, killing it instantly. The bullet went through its head and into the breast of the mother, inflicting probably a fatal wound. The murderer then blew his own brains out.

Suicide.

[illegible], June 6.—Ralph C. Smith, a well known real estate dealer, suicided to-day by taking prussic acid while suffering under mental derangement, caused by financial trouble.

Scientific Expedition.

NEW YORK, June 6.—The U. S. steamer Swatara, with scientific party detailed to observe the transit of Venus, sails to-morrow morning.

Rochefort as a Lecturer.

NEW YORK, June 6.—Henri Rochefort lectured to-night in the Academy of Music before a slim audience, composed almost exclusively of Frenchmen supporting the Communist sentiment.

The Democratic Convention Postponed.

[illegible], June 5.—The Democratic Central Committee have changed the date of holding the Convention from July 15th to August 26th.

Rail... Matters.

NEW YORK, June 6.—It is rumored that Jay Gould has made an offer for the Erie railroad by bidding for proxies to control the election of Directors.

James D. Potter, ex-Colonel was committed without bail under indictment for diamond robbery. This makes the tenth prisoner in the Tombs to answer for great forgeries of New York Central and Hudson and Erie Railroad bonds by which Wall street was swindled out of nearly a million dollars ...

Edgar Thompson, by his will, made ample provision out of his vast estate for the support of female orphans of men killed in railway service.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Legislation on Mining Claims.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Pratt's bill proposes to require every person or corporation claiming mining ground upon quartz lodes, which shall have produced minerals to the gross value of $5,000, to file an application for patent within one year from the enactment of this bill, and in case no adverse claim is filed final proof must be made and the land be paid for, at the rate of $5 per acre, within six months after. It is also provided that all applications heretofore made without the appearance of an adverse claimant shall be complete and the land be paid for, at $5 per acre, within six months from the enactment of the bill; and in all cases where adverse claims have been or may be filed, filing for a patent and payment, at the rate of $5 per acre, shall be made within six months from the rendition of final judgment.

New Postal Law for Newspapers.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—The House Postoffice Committee have agreed to report a bill providing that all newspaper and periodical publications, mailed from the known office of publication or news agency, and all addressed to regular subscribers or news agents, postage shall be charged at the following rates: newspapers and periodicals, publications issued weekly and more frequently than once a week, one cent and a half, on those issued less frequently than once a week, three cents for each pound or fraction thereof. On receipt of such papers and periodicals at the office of mailing, they are to be weighed in bulk and postage paid by a special adhesive stamp. Newspapers, one copy to each actual subscriber residing within the county where printed, in whole or in part, and published, shall pass through the mails, but the same shall not be delivered at a letter-carrier's office or distributed by carriers unless postage is paid thereon as by law provided and newspapers and magazines reciprocally interchanged between publishers, not exceeding 16 ounces in weight, to be confined to a single copy of each publication, go free through the mails. Mailable matter of the third class may weigh not exceeding four pounds for each package and postage shall be charged at the rate of one cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof. Affidavits are to be made by publishers or news agents to secure the adherence to those provisions for violation of which penalties are prescribed.

Relief for the N. P. Railroad.

The Senate passed the bill releasing the Northern Pacific Company from the requirement to pay cost of surveying lands granted by Government.

The New Secretary of the Treasury on Reform.

CHICAGO, June 6.—The new Secretary of the Treasury starts with indications of making a radical change in the manner of doing business in his department. Yesterday Supervising Architect Mullett sent up a requisition to be signed by the Secretary, when the latter sent for Mullett and had him explain everything in connection with the matter; to [illegible] plans, estimates, etc.—a proceeding which [illegible] filled Mullett with wonder, as nothing of the kind had ever occurred to him before yesterday. To-day Vanderbilt, the appointment clerk, was interviewed. He was instructed that he would be held [illegible] that no one is hereafter on rolls unless there is an equivalent in actual labor for which the salary is rendered. This frightened Vanderbilt, and he intimated that the responsibility would be a heavy one which he might not be able to stand up under without assistance, to which Bristow responded, "I will sustain you, Mr. Vanderbilt, and I assure you that you will not find any deficiency in my support." An active search is making for names of members of the department, who have been receiving pay without work. They will be promptly [illegible]. Eighteen went to-day, and many more will follow before ten days have elapsed.

Life Saving Stations to be Established on the Pacific Coast.

A bill passed by the House directs the Secretary of the Treasury to establish life-saving stations at [illegible] Bay, Point Reyes, Point Conception and [illegible], in California; Cape Arago, Oregon; and at Neah Bay, Cape Disappointment and Shoalwater Bay, W. T.

[illegible] of the Indian Commission.

Bonnet, Campbell, Bishop Dodge, Farwell and Stuart, the remaining members of the Indian Commission, have joined in a letter of resignation. They [illegible] the President on his adherence to the Indian policy announced in his inaugural address, [illegible] a hope that present success may make [illegible]. The main reason given for their resignation is on account of amendments to the Indian appropriation as it passed the House, requiring [illegible] tion of accounts, contracts and vouchers to be made in Washington.

Grant intimates that he will veto the civil rights bill, if passed by the House.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

French Political Affairs.

PARIS, June 6.—The Left Center have called for a proclamation of definitive republic and the dissolution of the Assembly. One hundred and ten deputies have signified their opposition to this programme. There is no longer any hope of an alliance between the Left and Right Centers.

The Le Pays newspaper says the friends of the Prince Imperial strongly oppose the nomination of Prince Jerome Napoleon for the Assembly.

[illegible] to Death in Contumaciam.

PARIS, June 5.—A council of war has pronounced a verdict of guilty against M. Millville Bloncourt, deputy for Guadeloupe, for participation in acts of the Commune, and condemned him to death in [illegible].

Condition of the Pope.

ROME, June 5.—The Pope was able to celebrate mass this morning, and subsequently walked to his library.

MEXICO.

Civil War Threatened.

HAVANA, June 6.—Advices from Mexico to May [illegible] state that a pronunciamento against the Government is considered inevitable in the State of [illegible]. Three persons, leaders in the movement, have been imprisoned. Lemus' revolutionary band has been dispersed. Bands of Indians have burned a number of ranches near the frontier settlements of Coahuila and people were terror stricken.

To a timid reporter, who asked him if it was true that he had decided not to be a candidate for the Governorship of Massachusetts again, General Butler said that not only was that true, but that he intended to take a trip to the Fiji Islands for the benefit of his health, and, while there, eat two missionary babies. Nobody doubts that he would do this if the performance would make him Governor.

It is a generous trait in Texans, which impels them to convey timely intelligence of the death of a stranger in their midst to the outside world. Thus a southern gentleman finding a saddled but riderless horse coming to his stable, [illegible] him in, and when removing the trappings [illegible] on the following brief but touching note: "Mr. Sharrop, hung near Whitesboro', Grayson County."—Chicago Times.

MR. DRUMMOND'S SUCCESSOR.—A dispatch from Washington, June 1, says that Mr. Burdett of Missouri, to-day took the oath as Commissioner of the General Land Office.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 6.—The following additional complaints have been filed in the U. S. District Court for alleged fraudulent entry of goods at the Custom House: Against Rosenberg & Co., for $829 36; Nicolas Gascella & G. Andrae $3,303 57; A. E. Sabatte & Co., $514 23; Dellepiane & Co., $248 60; Gallick, $533 67; I. Lelevian, $252 89. It is feared the collections at the Custom House in this city will be at least $1,000,000 less than for the previous year.

The steamer Arizona sailed for Panama and Mexican and Central American ports at noon to-day.

Overland passengers—W. Huston, J. B. Huston and wife, Oregon.

Greenbacks, 90@90½.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—Hugh Clarsson was lodged in jail here this evening. He was arrested at Hollister on a charge of grand larceny committed at Yreka, and is en route to that place for trial.

Weather to-day, after fog and rain last night, has been warm and pleasant.

The steamer Constitution for Panama, due yesterday, has not yet been telegraphed.

A man named Donnovan attempted to commit suicide this evening on Vallejo street by cutting his throat with a razor. Fortunately he was on the sidewalk at the time and some of the bystanders interfered in time to prevent the consummation of his desire. He made a terrible cut across his throat, but his surgeon says the wound is not mortal. He was a soldier in the war of Crimea and a man of very intemperate habits.

Interior California.

OROVILLE, June 6.—The body of Frank A. St. Ure, who has been missing since the 14th of February last, was found yesterday lodged on a snag in Feather river, about eight miles below here.

SAN DIEGO, June 6.—Parties from the Iapa placer mines report rich discoveries thirty miles below Iapa. There is a general rush of miners for the new fields.

BENICIA, June 7.—This afternoon about 12:30 o'clock a fire was observed in the Catholic burying ground on Cemetery Hill, and in a few moments' time it had increased in volume and swept furiously through the grounds, taking in their entire width. By this time a large crowd of people had congregated and were battling with might and main to stay the progress of the flames. Despite their earnest efforts, however, the fire gained upon them. At this moment a dray-load of wet sacks arrived, together with fresh men, and soon the course of the flames was turned and considerably abated. The Protestant grounds escaped being burned. A rail fence and a green wheat field on the north checked the fire, and in half an hours' time it was under control. The Catholic portion of the ground was injured most, many fences being burned to the ground and tombstones blackened and disfigured, and trees, flowers and shrubbery ruined. Origin of the fire unknown.

SANTA CRUZ, June 8.—At 9 o'clock this morning as Deputy Sylvan was waiting on prisoners in the jail he was assailed by three of them, one of them holding him while the other two escaped. Had it not been for the ready help of two other prisoners, the third would probably have escaped, but he was overpowered and remanded to jail, and will have an additional charge of resisting an officer to answer for, with forgery. Sheriff Orton is taking every measure at hand toward recapturing Francisco Balinica and Jos. Chanlales, the two who escaped.

SANTA CLARA, June 7.—Last night the extensive woolen mill and contents at Los Gatos was totally destroyed by fire. The loss is estimated at about $15,000 to $20,000 over insurance. Mr. Duncan, the lessee is reported to be ruined. The cause of the fire is unkown, but it is supposed to have caught from the engine room. The adjoining flour mill was saved.

CALISTOGA, June 7.—A heavy rain storm prevailed here for 24 hours. It is clearing off this morning. The miners working on the two hundred foot level of the Calistoga silver mine were compelled to suspend work on that level temporarily on account of the flow of water from this storm. The road to Clear Lake is very badly washed, but travel will not be interrupted. About five hundred tons of new hay in the fields was spoiled by the rain. During the storm yesterday afternoon a pedlar's wagon, containing two men, was capsized on the St. Helena mountain road and precipitated down a cliff sixty feet into a canyon. The team was wrecked and one of the men, named Kingford, had his shoulder-blade broken. The other man escaped, miraculously, with several severe bruises. A broken rein caused the mishap.

LOCAL OPTION IN CALIFORNIA.

The Contest in Oakland.

OAKLAND, June 6.—The excitement in Brooklyn to-day over the local option election is even greater than in Oakland last Saturday. The ladies are out in full force. Large numbers went over from Oakland to assist them. Lunch is spread in a large tent near the polls. Button-hole boquets and badges are furnished to the voters and friends of the anti-license ticket. The ladies are stretched out all along the county road to capture voters coming in from the country. The saloon-keepers have made no open demonstrations, but are working hard. Hatch is in their employ distributing his tracts. At noon the ladies captured him, and after placarding him all over with anti-license badges, led him to the lunch tent, where they surrounded him, and kept him from going out among the crowd. So far it is thought the ladies are far ahead.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 6.—There was much excitement over the Local Option election at Brooklyn to-day. Large numbers of people from this city attended, and about 250 women and little girls took a very active part in electioneering against liquor men. In a tent they spread a sumptuous lunch, and about the polls they were singing, exhorting and bestowing upon voters and others bouquets and sweet smiles. The license men had a band out, and their workers were placarded across the breast in huge letters, "For License." The Optionists claimed the victory at 5 P. M. and were singing in bands of 50 or 60 at various points. There were probably two thousand people on the ground. So far as known the ladies were treated with respect.

LODI, June 6.—This county went 23 majority for Local Option.

BANTAS, June 6.—The Local Optionists have a majority in Tulare township of one vote at Ellis and Bantas.

HOLLISTER, June 6.—The Local Option election, held here to-day, was carried on in a very spirited manner by the leaders of both parties. All passed off quietly. This precinct cast 517 votes—a majority of 68 votes against license. Pacheco precinct, to hear from, will increase the majority to about 75.

ARIZONA.

INDIAN WELLS, June 6.—A fearful sand storm swept over the desert day before yesterday. Two travelers arrived here who had been wandering around, lost on account of the roads having been covered up by sand. They were nearly famished.

RESCUE AT NIAGARA FALLS.—A dispatch from Buffalo, of June 1, says: A man who fell into Niagara River, near the Falls, was rescued by a man named McCullough, who tied a rope around his body and reached a rock at the peril of his life.

WOULDN'T REDUCE.—A dispatch from London, of June 1, says: In the House of Commons this evening, a motion by Sir H. Wolf to reduce the salary of the British Minister at Washington to $5,000, was rejected, 89 to 2.

On Monday next, Bishop Morris will be at McMinnville, and officiate in the ceremonies of laying the corner stone for the new Episcopal Church. He will, also, preach in the chapel on Monday evening.

LETTER FROM MR. A. J. DUFUR.

A WORD TO THE FARMERS OF OREGON.

CHICAGO, May 16, 1874.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Doubtless when this reaches you political excitement will be at its height in our State, and the columns of all our leading newspapers will be crowded with sensational articles, urging the farmers and mechanics to rush to the polls and vote the straight party ticket, and thereby "save the country from ruin." And while we do not deny feeling the deepest interest in the political economy of our State and nation, still we beg for a little space in your columns in which to call the attention of the farmers to one of their own material interests.

It is well known that Chicago and St. Louis hams, lard and bacon have been introduced extensively into the markets on our coast for the past few years, and the price of Chicago bacon fixed the price of the same article in the markets of Oregon to a very great extent. But in this industry there is a gradual change taking place in favor of the farmers on our coast. Corn, the great staple of the Mississippi Valley, which, one or two years ago, would net the producer only from eleven to seventeen cents per bushel in many places, and was consequently fed to cattle, burned for fuel, made into bacon, or left lying in the crib, now commands under the new arrangements of railroad tariff rates to Chicago, from forty-five to sixty cents per bushel, and is being almost exclusively sent to that market instead of being fed to hogs and made into pork. This has caused a marked falling off, not only in numbers, but also in size of hogs throughout the West, and is bound to have a marked influence on the price of bacon in California and Oregon another season.

G. H. Cassard & Co., writing to the Chicago Tribune on the

PORK PROSPECTS,

Use the following language in regard to the situation:

Last year the pork was bought and held out of the market, consumers not being able to get and use any during April and May, or a loss of two months' consumption, by reason of the exorbitant demands of "the ring." As against this, cash pork has been sold at a reasonable price to every one wishing to ship it, even in times of the greatest "bull" excitement. The consequence is, our rapid reduction of stocks and the prospect of its continuance, and if we send pork out in the same ratio for the next three months as the past three months, we will have no pork here. There is virtually no pork except in New York and Chicago. Last year on this date New Orleans had 22,000 barrels, against 6,000 this year. This is probably the largest pork consuming center, and it is estimated by one of the largest and most influential houses there that New Orleans and the Mississippi valley will require 75,000 barrels of pork at least up to November 1st for their supplies. Besides this, pork is being used in districts which have heretofore bought none. The summer hogs, coming in, although up to last year in quantity, are for the most part mere shoats, weighing 100 to 170 pounds, and only fit for Eastern butchers' markets. Corn steadily holds its own, notwithstanding the most discouraging foreign reports. The shortness of the crop becoming more and more evident, and with the most favorable weather, our receipts have been for the past week but a fraction of former seasons at this time. St. Louis is now buying pork here, both cash and futures, for the legitimate wants of her trade. The crevasse in the Mississippi made, and is making, large drafts on the already small stock of New Orleans, and we think we have reason to congratulate ourselves on the certain, though gradual, realization of our prophecy on pork. There are yet supposed to be shorts in this market on June pork to the extent of 35,000 barrels.

From opportunities we have had of obtaining reliable information on this subject at Des Moines, Rock Island, Chicago and other points, we feel safe in saying to the farmers of Oregon and Washington Territory; you will be able to receive a fair compensation for all your surplus hams, lard and bacon another year.

We start direct for Philadelphia on the P. M. 5:15 train to-morrow. Yours,

A. J. DUFUR.

MODERN ORTHODOXY—A RATIONAL VIEW OF HELL.

It is only a human religion such as that of Buddha, or Thor, or Jupiter, that may fear the growth of intelligence, and that may fade as the light of reason dawns; but of a religion from God, given by inspiration, the first distinguishing principle must be that it reveal its reasonableness as fast as man unfolds his own intelligence, and still become more glorious where there is the most culture. The medieval Christianity having been disfigured by ignorance and superstition, the subsequent growth of religion had to express itself in infidelity. When a Dante describes hell to mankind, and his frightful pictures become the theology of the church, sweeping through Romanism over into Protestantism, until Edwards says God will dash the sinner down on hell's floor and stamp upon him, then infidelity must follow, not simply to save a man from such horrors, but to rescue God's blessed name from such unspeakable infamy. In such a hell as Dante's it is not man that is punished—it is God that is destroyed. From such ideas we must fly to a more reasonable religion, carrying the cross and our holy faith away from such a degradation. We must, indeed, separate forever the righteous and the wicked, but, as the drunkard is punished in this world, and as the murderer accepts of his arrest without blaming God, as the soul feels its own wickedness and does not reproach his Creator, so the lost world is a place, not where God is seen as a cruel monster, but where the human free-will stands forth in all its divine powers, and reveals a self-punishment over which we can almost imagine the Heavenly Father himself to shed tears. Such is the perdition of reason—a place not where the Savior and God become an inquisition, but where the sinner's own heart and own will have woven themselves garments of perpetual sackcloth, and where the tears of sorrow fall not from a malicious decree of God, passed from eternity, but fall out of the sinner's own wretched soul and miserable life. Thus, over almost every idea of the Christian religion there is lying a drapery of reason fresh from the God of infinite wisdom, and beautiful to man, the image of the rational God.—From a Sermon by Prof. Swing, of Chicago.

ANOTHER CASE OF BURIAL ALIVE.—The New York Sun, of May 23, says: A young married woman residing at Salon, in the Department of Bouches du Rhone, France, died shortly after her confinement in August last. The medical man, who was hastily summoned when her illness assumed a dangerous form, certified to her death, and recommended immediate burial, in consequence of the immense heat then prevailing, and six hours afterward the body was interred. A few days since, the husband having decided to remarry, the mother of his late wife decided to have her daughter's remains removed to her native town, Marseilles. When the vault was opened, a horrible sight presented itself. The corpse lay in the middle of the vault, with disheveled hair and the linen torn to pieces. It evidently had been gnawed, in her agony, by the unfortunate victim. The shock which the dreadful spectacle caused to the mother has been so great that fears are entertained for her reason, if not for her life.

A June 2d dispatch from Deer creek, Utah, says: One hundred Piute Indians were submerged and confirmed into the Mormon faith here yesterday, by the Indian interpreter Lee, from Grantsville, and three others will be deputized as assistants. Sixty minutes were consumed in the operation, heavy rains prevailing at the time.

OREGON.

The Clerk of Marion county issued seven marriage licenses in May.

There were 61 deeds filed for record in the County Clerk's office, at Salem, during the month of May.

Commencement exercises of Albany Collegiate Institute on the 15th inst. A class of six graduate at that time.

There were three interments—two males and one female—in the Odd Fellows' cemetery in Salem, last month.

A man named Kightinger, at Salem, drove a blind horse, attached to a hack down a steep bank, the other day. The hack was upset and several persons were badly wet.

A pleasant Sunday School picnic was held at Hubbard's last Friday. There were six Sunday Schools represented, and an enjoyable day was passed.

Laurel Grange of Monroe, Benton county, last Saturday initiated a class of 36 into the first degree. This is the largest class ever initiated by any Grange in the county at one time.

The loss by the burning of Mrs. Waymire's residence in Polk county last week, was $6,000. That by the burning of Mr. Nesbitt's barn in Salem, $400. The latter was the work of hoodlums.

As about 100 voters who formerly trained with the Democracy at Scio voted the Independent ticket on Monday, straight Democrats now claim that there were 100 illegal votes polled at Scio.

An election for the purpose of choosing a Mayor, five Aldermen, one Marshal and one Recorder, will take place in Dalles City on the third Monday in June, the 15th inst. Candidates are respectfully solicited.

Two men, Mr. Drake and Mr. Cushman, got into a drunken row at Corvallis last week, in which the former was struck on the head by the latter with a stone tied in a handkerchief, and received some very severe injuries.

The Mountaineer says of the election at the Dalles: It passed off very pleasantly. There were no attempts made at illegal voting and all was quiet and orderly at the place of voting. This was decidedly the most respectable election ever held in this city.

Wm. Royals, of Soap Creek, Benton county, is now having constructed a canal, one hundred and twenty-five rods long, seven feet wide, and four and one-half feet deep, for the purpose of transporting wheat from his farm to the Willamette river, at Galloway's warehouse.

There are living in Corvallis an old gentleman and lady who celebrated their "golden wedding" on the 5th day of February last. They were married in 1824, at Mount Pleasant, Indiana, by a minister named James Love. Truly life with them has been a "pleasant dream."

Oakland has a first-class sensation on her tongue just now, and it is all about a full-grown citizen of that place—very sandy complexioned and not very good looking—leaving a good wife and eight small children, and running off with another citizen's wife and two children.

During last week Benton county has let two bridge contracts, as follows: The trestle-work over Beaver Slough tide lands, on the Pioneer & Newport Road, to R. M. Thompson, for $930; and a bridge over the Luckiamute, near Chambers' Mill, in King's Valley, to H. M. Stone, for $430.

Election day in Eugene was not altogether quiet enough to be taken for a Sunday School celebration day, yet there was not much disorderly conduct. One row grew out of a dog fight, but was promptly suppressed by the Marshal, and the City Treasury was inflated by the sum of $10.

Mr. J. M. Fitman, of Benton county, died suddenly on the night of the 3d inst. On that day he ate very heartily of wild strawberries, which produced a cholera morbus. Dr. Davis was called and administered medicines, which gave relief, and returned home; but Mr. P. died before morning.

For some time past the panthers have been preying upon An Cantrell's Angora goats near Corvallis. On Wednesday of last week he killed one measuring seven feet in length. On Thursday he bagged one a foot longer, and on Friday John Vineyard, a neighbor, killed one measuring nine feet in length.

At the meeting of the Business Council of the Patrons of Husbandry for Linn county in Albany, a committee of three was appointed to confer with other Granges in the valley, in reference to securing the survey of the obstructions in the Willamette river. Messrs. A. S. Powell, E. E. Fanning and J. Wheeler constitute the committee. The Council adjourned to the second Tuesday in July.

The Dalles paper says John Hartford, generally known as "Sailor Jack," dropped dead in a apoplectic fit yesterday morning, while at work in Ellen Robinson's kitchen. Poor old Jack is gone. Old John Barleycorn was too much for him and he had to succumb, like many others have done before. He was the last one left of his kind. Who is there here among the living to take his place.

John Russell, late of the Penitentiary, but later of the Yamhill County Jail, escaped from the latter institution on Sunday night of last week, by wrenching one of the cross-bars to his bed frame off and with this managed to break the lock to the feed door, through which he crawled out and made his escape, taking with him all of his clothing. He was indicted in 1872 by the Grand Jury for horse-stealing and arson; for the first offence he served one year in the Penitentiary.

The Record says: "We are pleased to know that all the difficulty in the case of C. W. Shaw which we have mentioned several times, pro and con, as concerning Mr. Shaw and Rev. I. D. Driver, Presiding Elder of the District, has been amicably adjusted, and that the same committee, with the same Chairman, Rev Mr. Driver, on a further and fuller hearing, have exonerated Mr. Shaw from all charges of immoral conduct in relation to the management of funds, etc., of Albany church, and all other charges.

Morris and Rice, Independent and Democratic candidates for Sheriff in Linn county, got 1,071 votes each—a tie. The Register says "Friday, at 1 o'clock P. M., the 'tied' candidates for Sheriff met at the Court House and made arrangements to 'untie.' A number of blank pieces of paper were placed in a box, together with two slips of paper, on one of which was written 'Rice' and on the other 'Morris.' Both parties then shook the box, when the County Clerk placed his hand in the box and drew out the slip on which was written 'Rice,' thus deciding in his favor. Whether Morris will contest or not we are not informed."

From a letter written by Senator Kelly to ex-Congressman Slater, it appears that Wallowa valley is open for settlement, and that the former order of the Commissioner of Indian Affairs has, in effect, been rescinded, and that he will not ask for an appropriation to pay the settlers there for their improvements, but that they will be allowed to retain their claims. The reopening of the Wallowa valley for settlement is a great good for the future prosperity of Eastern Oregon, and especially for Union county, and all of our citizens will hail with joy the just and rightful decision of the Commissioner of Indian Affairs in relation to this important matter.

Speaking of peaches, Mr. Watson writes from Hood river, Wasco county, to the Record: "This is the peach location north of California; all fruits here possess a much higher flavor than those grown in the Willamette valley. I have a yearling bud that had this spring 405 bloom; last year's growth 67 feet, and now has over 150 promising peaches; variety, Hale's early. Off a two-year-old tree I picked last year 105 pounds of perfect fruit (it was a Water Sprout from an old root); two year-old buds, this season, promise from 30 to 50 pounds of fruit; but more hereafter relative to fruit and the health of this locality as the asylum for the afflicted."

THE TERRITORIES.

Miss Chapin is preaching Universalism to the Tacomaites.

Bishop Bowman will preside at the Rocky Mountain Conference, to be held in Salt Lake on the 13th of August.

Riley Markham's horse reared up and fell backward with him at Rose City last week, and Riley's arm was broken.

Four barks arrived at Port Gamble last week. Two vessels at that port are loading with lumber for the southern coast.

The recent frost did much damage to vegetation in several parts of Pierce county, W. T. Hill Harmon was damaged to the extent of some $600.

Some trouble is reported to have occurred on the Seattle and Walla Walla Road, one day last week, between the white laborers and a gang of Chinamen.

W. L. Boone, late of Olympia, has received the contract for erecting the new marine hospital in San Francisco, at $44,800, the work to be executed in six months.

The schooner Ontario, laden with 15,000 brick, sprung a leak last week, while on the way from Steilacoom to Tacoma, and had to be run ashore to avoid sinking.

The bark Modoc, from San Pedro, is loading with lumber at Utsalady; the W. H. Gawley, at Port Madison; the Nicholas Biddle, at Port Blakely, and the Empress Eugenie at Port Discovery.

A poor old forn lone bachelor down at Kalama is in the habit of writing love letters to a young lady in Vancouver, who has a young and handsome fellow to read them and note the misspelt words, much to their amusement.

Messrs R. R. Smith and David Cook, having been on a prospecting tour in the Coast Range, returned to Olympia on Saturday last in good health and spirits. Owing to high water, they did not make a thorough examination, but report having found coal and gold-bearing quartz. They speak in excellent terms through which they passed, along the southern edge of the range—fine prairies and rich soil. Plenty of game was found.

The citizens of Chehalis county having subscribed about two hundred dollars to improve the Hicklin road to the lower Chehalis, are now engaged in working out the amount subscribed. Three hundred dollars was also appropriated by Thurston county for the same purpose, which with the above amount, when expended, will make an excellent road to the Chehalis, and give the people in that locality an opportunity of getting their produce to the Olympia market.

This is the way the Denver Times gets after an Omaha man: "The editor of an Omaha paper reports seeing a huge piece of sulphur taken from a mine located in the Wasatch mountains, near the head of Bear river, in Utah. He says sulphur exists in this mine in inexhaustible quantities, having been traced over an area of thirty-five acres. Omaha editors will some day reach a country where thirty-five acres of sulphur will be as a mere garden patch, but where it will be able to be traced not only, but will lie thick all over the country."

The Walla Walla Statesman says: "When Moos-Moos, the Indian convicted of murder, was asked if he had anything to say why he should not be sentenced to death, he said that it would be useless to declare his innocence as he was looked upon as being guilty; he would reserve what he had to say until he appeared before the Judge in the other world. All he desired was to die as soon as possible, as he had no particular longing to remain in the county jail—death was to be preferred to incarceration in that building. Judge Lewis then sentenced him to be hanged on Friday, the 14th day of August."

The Olympia Courier has an article on the coal beds of Washington Territory, which are inexhaustible. The Courier says: "There are thousands of acres in this Territory known to be beds of coal, and so common is the sight and so little value placed upon the lands that until a year or two last they have not even been entered at the rate of $1 25 per acre. That day has now passed, and the coals of this Territory are destined to be roused from their long slumber in the various markets of the world, the result of which will be to add to our Territory in wealth, population and commerce, as well as to cause the development of our manufacturing resources.

COOS BAY ITEMS.

Says our Empire City correspondent under date of June 3d:

The Republican ticket in this vicinity was successful last Monday.

The steamer Empire brought 54 passengers on her last trip from San Francisco.

The North Pacific Coal Company will commence building their railroad shortly.

About $60 was netted from the concert given by Vivian last Thursday evening in aid of the church bell fund.

The tug Brilliant for this bay will arrive in a few days. The Escort now doing duty, will go to San Francisco for repairs.

The farmers in the vicinity of Hall's Prairie, Coquille river, have organized a Grange with 30 charter members, and elected the following officers for the ensuing year. Master, J. Henry Schroeder; Overseer, E. Spurgeon; Lecturer, S. S. Summers; Chaplain, M. Bridges; Steward, John Thelin; Treasurer, J. Fred. Schroeder; Secretary, Alexander Stauff; Assistant Steward, John D. Brown; Gate Keeper, J. C. Stephens; Ceres, Mrs. P. Twining; Pomona, Miss Mary Schroeder; Flora, Miss Emily Schroeder. Lady Assistant Steward, Miss Nettie Gridley. Worthy Deputy Installing Officer, R. M. Gurney, has been called upon to organize Granges at North Fork Coquille, Coquille City, Catching Slough and Randolph.

HOW TO ESCAPE FROM FIRE.

The Superintendent of the London Fire Brigade has devised the following very judicious directions for aiding persons to escape from premises on fire:

1. Be careful to acquaint yourself with the best means of exit from the house, both at the top and bottom.

2. On the first alarm, reflect before you act. If in bed at the time, wrap yourself in a blanket or bedside carpet. Open no more doors than are absolutely necessary, and shut every door after you.

3. There is always from eight to twelve inches of pure air close to the ground; if you cannot, therefore, walk upright through the smoke, drop on your hands and knees, and thus progress. A wetted silk handkerchief, a piece of flannel, or a worsted stocking, drawn over the face, permits breathing, and to a great extent excludes the smoke.

4. If you can neither make your way upward or downward, get into a front room; if there is a family, see that they are all collected there, and keep the door closed as much as possible, for remember, smoke always follows a draught, and fire always rushes after smoke.

5. On no account throw yourself, or allow others to throw themselves, from the window. If no assistance is at hand, and you are in the extremity, tie the sheets together, having fastened one side to some heavy piece of furniture, and let down the women and children one by one, by tying the end of the line of sheets around the waist, and lowering them through the window that is over the door, rather than one that is over the door. You can easily let yourself down after the helpless are saved.

6. If a woman's clothes catch fire, let her instantly roll herself over and over on the ground.

"DISTINGUISHED CONSIDERATION"—AND A CONUNDRUM.—One of the most touching incidents of the sailing of Sartoris was the devotion to youth and beauty manifested by Old Probabilities, who sent by special boat a breathless messenger with the result of the latest observations. The announcement that the prospect for good weather was auspicious, was received with tremendous cheers. But can good Mr. Prob calmly predict that there will be no storms matrimonial?—Chicago Times.

Independents in SMALL CAPS, Republicans in italics and Democrats in Roman.

With the above figures, taking the Burnett and Wilson vote as a basis, it is probable that Mr. LaDow's majority over Williams will not exceed 100. At the same time it is to be remembered that Mr. Wilson's personal popularity largely reduced the average Democratic majority in Eastern Oregon.

Republicans are claiming a majority of 68 in Tillamook, and 150 in Coos and Curry. The former may be correct, although Mr. Wilson's majority was 31 but the latter must be regarded as a rather wild guess, for Mr. Wilson's majority in Coos and Curry was only 37, Gen. Grant's reaching up to 190. We consider 100 majority for Mr. Williams an extremely liberal estimate—particularly so since Democrats have been claiming the sameg fiure for Mr. La Dow.

A PRIEST IMPRISONED FOR A PRACTICAL JOKE.—The Pall Mall Gazette says: It is not often that a prisoner is brought to trial upon the charge laid against Father Baronius, when he appeared before the tribune at Treviglio, in Lombardy, lately. This worthy ecclesiastic was accused of putting a strong emetic into the wine which some of his brother priests were about to use in the celebration of mass, and his only defense was that he wanted to play a practical joke upon two of them who had recently come to Treviglio. They belonged to an opposite school of theology, and Father Baronius, who seemed surprised that his application of emetics to religion should have caused so great a scandal, thought that if he could not convert them, he might at least punish them. It would have been useless for him to have denied the main facts of the accusation, as the dose was so strong that one of the victims was ill for a week, while the doctors at Treviglio, possessing but a very elementary knowledge of the healing art, thought that he had been poisoned, and submitted him to so severe a diet that he was reduced to a skeleton. The offending priest was charged upon the double count of misdemeanor and sacrilege, and was sentenced to seven months imprisonment.

MONDAY MORNING JUNE 8, 1874

THE PUBLIC LAND SURVEYS

A correspondent from Curry county, whose letter appears this morning discourses of the wants of Curry county, and among these wants specifies particularly the demand for a complete survey of the public land, in order that settlers may know their boundaries and understand their rights. This is a subject in which not Curry county alone but nearly every county in the State is interested. Thousands of dollars are appropriated from year to year for the purpose of surveying the public lands in Oregon, and yet there are large districts where the settler must risk having his improvements disturbed and much of his labor rendered worthless by the requirements of the law in regard to legal subdivisions when the land shall be surveyed. A man settles on an eligible tract of the public land and proceeds to open a farm, build his dwelling and out buildings, plant his orchard and in short make all the arrangements for a well appointed home. But the land has not been surveyed and when the surveys shall be made he will find his orchard and his house, or his house and barn separated from each other, or half his best field cut off from the remainder of his improvements by the "legal subdivision" line. He may choose between taking and paying for one or two more forties than he wants or losing the labor and money he has spent in the improvement. This looks like a great hardship.

The first and most natural answer is, why did the settler go upon unsurveyed land? If he chose not to wait for the land to be surveyed, he took his chances as to where the lines would finally fall, and he has no ground of complaint if they do not fall just where he would like to have them. But this answer, though sufficient upon legal modes of reasoning, is hardly fair. The Government invites the settlement of the public lands, and it ought to provide as rapidly as possible for their survey, so that when one of its citizens wishes to avail himself of the invitation and build a home for himself and his family, he could select the place of settlement without unnecessary hindrance and uncertainty. Government has no legitimate functions except the protection and care of the public, and if it fails in any important respect to exercise the utmost care for their happiness, it merits censure.

But aside from the question of the rights of the individual, the State of Oregon has an interest in this matter of public surveys. What our people most need to secure their highest prosperity, is people not loafers and idlers, but working people, people who build homes and live in them, rear and educate families, raise wheat and oats and hay and wool and beef, cut lumber—work. And in order that we may have people it is important that every practicable convenience be afforded them to make settlement among us, and that every natural inconvenience be removed if possible. There have been many instances in which persons who desired to take up and improve Government land have refrained from doing so, because of the chances they would have to take in regard to the survey.

We have said there have been appropriations by the Government for this work of surveying the public land. We do not wish to be misunderstood. The appropriations might have been insufficient to complete the work if they had been honestly expended. Therefore we do not say the officers in charge of this service are to be blamed because the surveys are not all made. But no one will question that there has been a very large portion of this money expended in political jobs. It was shamefully notorious that the Surveyor General's office and its funds were used, in the form of jobbing contracts, to elect the Senator who was chosen at the last Legislature. It has been used as one of the chief means of corruption for political purposes, and the citizens in their individual capacities have suffered and the State at large been wronged. This is a crying abuse and should cease at once.

HE STARTS RIGHT.

General Bristow's manly refusal to accede to the demands of politicians and retain Sawyer as Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, indicates that Bristow is a man of the right stamp. Sawyer rests under as strong imputations of corruption in connection with the Sanborn frauds as any man about the Department, and Bristow shows a correct appreciation of the demands of the case when he says Sawyer and he "cannot sail in the same boat." General Bristow was in the Department of Justice—Assistant Attorney-General for some time, and his retirement from that place, although quiet and without explanation was supposed to be because there were one or more persons in the Department with whom he did not care to sail. A dozen or so of such men as Bristow is reputed to be, would lift the administration again into the public confidence and consequent popularity. Give the country for its rulers men who will not consent to "sail in the same boat" with political huckster and stockjobbers, and the uproar that is now heard all over the land about parties and rings and cliques will be hushed to silence at once.

The defeat of Thookydeeds shows that people are learning to defy the party when the party puts up a fraud instead of a man for them to vote for. When this lesson is thoroughly learned the victory of the Independents will be complete. If the people were entirely free from the dictation of party, who doubts that Campbell and Davenport would have been elected? And who doubts that both the old parties should they survive till next State election will be very clear of bringing before the people for their support such men as some of those who have figured in the contest that has just closed. Let Independents be thankful for what they have accomplished in electing more members of the Legislature than either of the old parties, in wresting several of the counties from the hands of the rings and in awakening public sentiment to the necessity of independent non partisan action and individual responsibility in selecting public servants.

The only candidate for Governor who carried his own county was Campbell.

A NEW CONVERT AND ALLY

The latest convert to the sound and wholesome doctrine of Independent political action, is the Portland Bulletin. It will surprise many of our readers to read that the Bulletin has not only surrendered and accepted the situation in apparent good faith but has come out in favor of the principle for which we have been contending this long time. But a perusal of its editorial columns since the election justifies us in stating that such is in truth the case. Take this for example:

The State and county elections are over and in each the Republican party has come out badly worsted. In our county election the party has sustained a severe defeat. We do not propose here to enter into an investigation of the causes which have led to this defeat, nor to indulge in comments thereon. In our present purpose it is enough to know that the popular voice has in angry tones with harsh effect pronounced its disapproval of the general conduct of the party.

And then follow it up with this from another article:

As parties at present are the days going, the best thing every voter can do is to vote for the best man. An observance of this good rule will effectively teach the manipulators of primaries and nominating conventions that excellence and efficiency in candidates are prime qualities which must be unquestionably possessed to assure popular favor and that no party organization is so potent as to force through to election candidates who are unworthy no matter how expert they may be in running things. This determination on the part of the mass of citizens to vote only for the best men put up for office, if it is resolutely demonstrated will impel the managers of each of the party organizations to so change their plan of action as to correct the abuses which have fouled the fountains of the nominating system and to strive more with a view to select the fittest men for candidacy under the old Jeffersonian requirement of honesty and capability than to pick them as they usually do now-a-days chiefly for their ability to run the party machine in the interest of the few at the expense of the many, and to accomplish results which at last drag the whole party into merited defeat and well nigh to dissolution.

Our readers know with what earnest persistency we have been urging the views here expressed from the time we took charge of the OREGONIAN, and those of them who have read the Bulletin know how bitterly that paper has denounced such doctrines as treason to the party. We are heartily glad the Bulletin has seen the error of its ways and turned its face in the right direction. Let it stand fast upon this ground, and no party that conducts itself as the Republican organization in this State has done of late will ever receive its support. We speak particularly of the Republican organization in this connection, because it is not to be supposed for a moment the Bulletin, under its present editorial management, could ever lend its support to the Democracy under any circumstances. We hope the principle of independence of party in the selection of officers when there is no important political question involved may have found in the Bulletin an advocate, and the OREGONIAN an ally that has good staying qualities. This conversion of the Bulletin is itself an exemplification of what can be accomplished by steadily "pegging away" from day to day and from month to month on the side of right. We extend to the Bulletin a cordial welcome into the ranks of independent journalism, and shall expect its co-operation in our next campaign against party corruptions. If the Republican ring was shelved in spite of the Bulletin, it is certainly not too much to hope that with its assistance we shall be able in the next contest to send the Democratic ring into oblivion and let the people be free.

She was a married woman but the man she went strawberrying with wasn't her husband. They failed to come back at the time they were due and subsequent inquiry revealed the fact that they did not stop at the strawberry patch. So there is a sensation in the Umpqua country and the Call does up the scandal after this style:

If they will come back now and show cause why the people shouldn't ought to get their suspicions up so we will give them a nice puff and declare that they haven't done naughty at all, but if they won't we will slap them right into the John Hipple-Brinker category and there they can sweat until an opportunity for the U S Senate turns up for all we care.

It is just about certain that Thookydeeds Dawne is beaten. So our public schools must be content for the next four years to go on in the old rut with Webster and Worcester instead of Mountain Home for their standards of orthography and orthoepy. Thucydides will not be "Thookydeeds, and geometer will still be spelt without a double s. Good bye, "Doctor." Be virtuous and stick close to Mountain Home and Oglethorpe and you may be happy yet. By the way, hasn't the express train that had those diplomas on board been conveniently wrecked?

In last Saturday's Bulletin Mr H W Scott announces that his editorial connection with that paper has ceased. No explanation of the causes that led to the result is given. See 11 page

The summer solstice and the adjournment of Congress are set for the 21st of the present month.

THE NEEDS OF CURRY COUNTY

ELLENSBURG, May — 1874

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Curry county though small has many needs. It needs a mail twice a week running from Crescent City California up the sea coast to Coos Bay. It needs a wagon road over the same points if said road can be built without a land grab or some other swindle on tax payers. It needs more of the public lands surveyed. Plenty of settlers here are living on land that has had improvements made on it for twenty years and is still unsurveyed. A survey would settle a great many disputes of long standing besides increasing the receipts of the school fund, &c. We have had promise many in regard to the matter and we think the fulfillment of those promises a consummation devoutly to be wished. There are gentlemen here who would be willing to take a contract to survey.

What we do not require are some Custom House officers—one appointed in the last year. Both offices the one at Rogue river and that at Port Orford are positively sinecures. The idea of Custom-House building in the woods and no watch road in the county. Petitions to have the ... at Port Orford smashed are of no avail.

What has become of the State Board of Pearl... They assume the power to ... the 16th and 36th sections of unsurveyed lands. There are several disputes before them in regard to lands so situated. Some of the disputes are over a year old which I think is long enough for them to deliberate. They have not settled any dispute that I can learn of. I think the Board have overstepped their rights in the matter.

THIEF OF TIME.—Procrastination is generally supposed to be the arrant thief of time but a fellow in Portland has demonstrated the fact that the above supposition is not altogether true Last Saturday an individual calling himself H H Danforth visited the residence of a Cyprian named Jennie Savage While there, Danforth observed a handsome gold watch lying on the table, which he quietly appropriated Leaving the house he proceeded directly to the Clarendon Hotel and soon after succeeded in pawning the watch for a considerable sum of money Good fortune, however, did not long attend Danforth for the woman soon missed the watch and strongly suspicioning her visitor, swore out a warrant for his arrest Danforth was taken into custody and an examination of the case will come up in Police Court this morning

NEW BANK.—Two gentlemen who represent a large amount of capital are passengers on the John L Stephens, and come hither for the purpose of establishing a bank This banking establishment will be under the control and direction of the Hibernian Trust and Loan Society, articles of incorporation of which were filed two weeks ago in the County Clerk's office. Mr Ellis Read, one of the incorporators and projectors of the bank is also a passenger Arrangements we learn have been effected for the early establishment and opening of the proposed bank in this city The rooms on Front street formerly occupied by the Bank of British Columbia are being fitted up and will be used by the new company Soon after the arrival of these gentlemen the new banking establishment is expected to be opened

HIS NATIVE "ILLAHIE."—The Mountaineer of last week says "One of the Warm Spring Indians that went with the Donald McKay party, returned one day this week A gentleman who came up the river at the same time says he never saw any one show so much feeling and anxiety to return to his own country As the steamer neared this city and he recognized the familiar hills he was anxious to impress on every one around him that this was 'nika illahie'—his country His reason for returning was that he became homesick, and it seems that nothing could induce him to remain with the band. He says the 'Boston men' are making 'Hiu chickamin'"

GRAND ROYAL ARCH CHAPTER.—At the fifteenth annual convocation of the Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons for Oregon, now in session at Masonic Hall in this city the following officers were elected for the ensuing Masonic year Jas. LOCAL BREVITIES.

Croquet was in good fix last week

Will there be a straight temperance ticket out next Monday?

Election for one Councilman in each Ward next Monday Candidates number a dozen or so

Mr C A Alisky has been chosen Assistant Engineer of the Portland Fire Department by the Board of Delegates

Owing to the inclement weather the Portland Band did not put in an appearance at the plaza on Saturday evening

The latest man of Umatilla is running a pretty even race for Congress Don't spoil it if you want to make a good show

On last Friday the Columbia river at Vancouver was three feet ten and a half inches higher than on the same date in 1873 and one foot eleven inches lower than on June 6 1872

The disagreeable weather on Saturday was too much for the ball-ists and there was no game between the Occidentals and Pioneers The game will probably take place during the present week

We are reliably informed that a correspondent of the London Times is among the passengers on the John L Stephens He comes to Oregon for the purpose of writing up the resources of the State

Will Saunders was elected last Monday Justice of the Peace for Empire City precinct by 23 majority being a greater majority received than any candidate on the Republican ticket, except one Billy is a Portlander and the news of his election will be hailed with pleasure by his friends in this city

THE STAGE

Waldron is playing at Denver still

Joe Murphy was at Boston on the 27th ult

Cogill & Cooper were at Pittsburg Pa May 30th

Jim Vinson the old veteran, is still stage manager at the Salt Lake Theater

M Greenwall agent for Maguire's Minstrels, is a passenger on the John L Stephens He comes, we presume, to make arrangements for the appearance of the troupe in this city

The Warm Spring braves were at San Jose at last accounts appearing nightly before crowded houses They will probably remain several weeks in California before journeying eastward

Nothing has been heard of the Leroy Duret troupe for some time Some weeks ago it was announced that the company would leave San Francisco soon and come to Portland playing overland Doubtless the project has failed

The Figaro of the 30th ult says "The first evening performance for the benefit of the sufferers by the Louisiana overflow, will be given at Maguire's New Theater on Monday On this occasion Miss Sallie Hinckley whom the public will be glad to see once more on the San Francisco stage, will appear in the character of Anita in the lively comedy of 'A Tempest in a Teapot'"

This is what the Coos Bay News of the 3d inst says of Vivian "It is rather lond The Vivian troupe leave us on the Empire, their destination being Crescent City and Humboldt It is seldom that a performer of Vivian's ability gets out into such a wild country as this but he seems to enjoy it greatly He will astonish the Londoners just as much with his quaint delineations of Oregon character, a year hence, as he now convulses us with his inimitable drollery in 'Ten Thousand Miles Away' or his lachrymose earnestness in 'Sweet Jenny.' He is a real citizen of the world and if he should find himself on the sands of the Barren Desert, he would lie down contentedly saying 'We may be happy yet' He has our best wishes for his pecuniary success and we trust there may never be a day in our life but we can cheerfully say to him, 'I'm Glad to See You, Boy'"

BALLS AND PARTIES.

On the evening of July 4th the members of the East Portland Band propose to give a grand civic and military ball in one of the large halls of the city The object of the ball is to raise sufficient funds with which to procure new uniforms for members of the band The various military organizations of the city have signified their willingness to join heartily in the proposed affair, and assist in making it a grand social and financial success Arrangements proportionate to the magnitude of the affair will be at once made, and there is little room to doubt of its complete success It is needless to urge our citizens to patronize the forthcoming ball The claims which the recipients have upon the public are too well established to be disregarded Members of the East Portland Band are justly entitled to much credit for the proficiency they have made since its organization They have also contributed much to the pleasures of our citizens in discoursing superior music on the streets excursions, at concerts and in ball rooms Local pride in contributing to the maintenance of this musical organization should certainly stimulate the public to a prompt and liberal support of the ball held in contemplation New and proper uniforms are indispensably necessary to the neat and attractive appearance of the band, and we are quite certain that in consideration of past services, our music loving public will not withhold the merited patronage Full particulars will be given in a few days

AMUSEMENTS.

We are gratified to announce that Oro Fino Theater was crowded last Saturday, notwithstanding the night proved cold and showery The programme was one of the most attractive which has yet been presented by this talented company and the performance in its entirety was greeted with much enthusiasm by the large audience Now that a large number of theater goers have had an opportunity of witnessing the excellent performances given by Madam Phelps and company, we trust that the manageress' efforts to sustain a place of legitimate amusement will meet with a more liberal measure of patronage than the public have thus far seen proper to accord No efforts will be abated by Madame Phelps during her sojourn in Portland to furnish the amusement loving public with a class of legitimate performances well worthy of patronage This evening the entertainment will consist of the comic drama of the 'Irish Emigrant,' an interlude and concluding with the ridiculous farce of the 'Bonnie Fish wife' We bespeak a crowded house

The triangular fight for Governor and other State offices is over and the returns are coming in Some think the result will be in favor of the Democratic ticket and vice versa but it is certain that FISHEL & ROBERTS are leading in the race for supremacy in their particular line of business. This popular Clothing House is now filled in every department with the latest fashions and they are offering great bargains though that is generally understood by all who know the firm Leave your measure and we assure you that satisfaction will be given in every instance

Amid the existing excitement attending the election do not forget that you need a new outfit for the summer There never was a better opportunity offered those in want of clothing to invest than at the present time Beck & Waldman the pioneer clothiers are awake to the necessities of the hour, and now offer to buyers an entire suit of clothing at less cost than can be found elsewhere Their stock is A No 1 and is for quantity not equalled Last of haul more in store

BRONCHITIS

This is an irritation or inflammation of the bronchial tubes which carry the air we breathe into the lungs It arises from a cold settled in the throat from Catarrh extending to these parts from scrofulous affections and from severe use of the voice The irritation from this latter cause commences in the larynx and pharynx which are the organs of the voice and extends downwards produces hoarseness coughing and spitting mucus as matter sometimes mixed with blood It is chiefly dangerous from its tendency to spread into the lungs and terminate in consumption This in the cure of severe and obstinate cases of this disease Dr Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has achieved unparalleled success and wins the highest praise from all who have used it.

A DEBT OF GRATITUDE

Mrs Mary Taft of Elk Point Dak ta Territory called at the World's Dispensary, August 19 1873 to acknowledge a debt of gratitude due Dr Pierce, having been entirely cured of Catarrh complicated with Throat Disease by the use of Dr Sage's Catarrh Remedy and Dr Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

CLOSING ADDRESS

BISHOP MORRIS' ADDRESS AT THE EXERCISES OF THE BISHOP SCOTT GRAMMAR AND DIVINITY SCHOOL ON THE EVENING OF JUNE 5TH, 1874

Early in the establishment of this school a thoughtful person much interested in the undertaking and having a real solicitude for the welfare of those who should become its pupils suggested that we should take for our motto and inscribe conspicuously on our walls this sentiment "Before honor is humility" We have not exactly done this but I have thought it well in then there for to take this proverb as the foundation thought of what I have to say on this occasion If it has freedom and application at any time and for it must be in the time of youth if there are any engagements and duties wherein it will avail to a good end they must be those of the pupil and learner I take the word here in its best sense as equivalent to dignity reputation fame or respect founded on worth I take it as something not necessarily implied by the title Honorable affixed to the name of every man who by fair means or foul has once had a seat in a State Legislature or presided for a brief season over a county court Neither is it the possession of riches rank worldly fame before which the multitude of men press willing to bow the fawning knee Men oftentimes make their way to such places and gain and wear these short-lived honors without the first quality represented by the true idea of this term and without any claim to humility of character or conduct Honor here is rather excellency of character reputation with good and wise men and carries along with it influence and power in all the important affairs of life. The student or scholar then who would gain these good things must not forget this most essential requisite If he is to succeed in so laudable an undertaking if he is to make himself truly an honorable man he must begin with this quality of humility for this is the only foundation on which such a character can be built Humility is the opposite of pride self conceit and self sufficiency It will be shown in the pupil in the first place by his accepting fully and frankly the position of a learner by his having a low opinion of his own attainments and by his faithful efforts to profit by the superior knowledge of his teacher Nowhere perhaps is it sooner discovered that a little learning is a dangerous thing than in the school room The novice skimming over the surface of things, picking up little scraps of knowledge here and there soon begins to plume himself on his acquirements and to grow headstrong and conceited and can only be saved from downright folly and disgrace by remembering always his true position and place Out of the want of this grace and quality of "humility," comes that fatal spirit of haste and impatience, which is so ruinous to true scholarship and so destructive of a well formed character Puffed up with an extravagant estimate of his attainments the learner begins to covet the rewards and fruits of his labors, long before he is fit to receive them or capable of appreciating and enjoying them He will march with speed and haste to victory without any of the toil and hardship necessary to conquer and overcome the difficulties of the way He will rear a magnificent building for show and enjoyment without any care or thought for its foundations and so will he surely prepare himself for disappointment and mortification in the end The way to all this waste and failure begins with the beginning Without a conscious and abiding sense of his want and ignorance which the grace of humility would have taught him, the boy's object in school was to make a recitation instead of mastering the subject It was to gain the approbation of his teacher for talent and ability, instead of gaining for himself true and priceless knowledge Beginning with this false principle he has gone on, only anxious at best to get good marks to win the prize, to "graduate," to secure the honors of his school or college to obtain his degree with no care or concern whether he deserved it or not and so in time he goes out to the world a sham—a pretender—a bilk unfit for every honorable calling in life If he had begun his career in humility with a true estimate of his own want and ignorance he would have sought real learning and knowledge, instead of its counterfeit and show and society would have had one more true and honest man and one less cheat and impostor

He then that will make a scholar that will fit himself to earn and to wear the true honors of life, must know the value of this quality, and earnestly seek its possession The very idea of a school of teacher and pupil carries with it the idea of humility of submission and deference on the part of the learner to the superior knowledge and wisdom of the teacher The relations between these are quite analogous to the relations between a physician and his patient The patient seeks the physician because he believes that his skill and remedies will restore him to health But he who having done this should then proceed to give directions to his physician and undertake to criticise and control his treatment would be guilty of the greatest folly and pretension and expose himself to just indignation and rebuke Just so it is with the learner or pupil who undertake the management of his own studies, and seeks to dictate the mode and manner in which they shall be pursued—the order in which one book shall follow another and the time at which he shall be promoted from one class or room to another No teacher with a proper sense of self respect, or a proper conception of the responsibilities of his vocation will tolerate this interference and dictation

It mends the matter very little when this presumption in the pupil is either suggested or seconded by the parent It is just as unbecoming and out of character as dictation to a physician concerning the treatment he shall prescribe for a case, in which he alone knows the disease and its proper remedy I would not say that the parent should have no voice in choosing the general course of study for his child and that there should be no election in books and branches of study But I do say that, when these are arranged and provided for, all subsequent interference and dictation as to the order and time in which the pupil should be taken from book to book and promoted from class to class is entirely out of place and can only be attempted to the loss of this grace of humility on the part of the pupil and to the serious damage of his scholarship and his character

In the next place this quality of humility in the pupil will give that respect for the attainments of his teacher which is so essential to his own progress and improvement If a man can possess himself of anything in this life which may be claimed as his own it surely will be his learning and scholarship Money may be inherited along with dullness Genius may descend to a man from an unworthy or dishonored name Wealth may be gotten by cunning fraud or wild speculation, and so used as only to make more conspicuous the ignorance and vulgarity of its possessor But this is not so with learning. This can neither be inherited nor gotten by chance or luck We were told long ago that there was no royal road to that goal If we may say with any truth [illegible] we can not say so of the scholar All his treasure are the result of downright work and toil

Here there can be neither sham nor counterfeit And if the pupil should have respect for anything, he should have it for the learning, and scholarship of his teacher. With this respect he will cheerfully submit himself to his rule and guidance and if he be not almost and altogether such an one as I should [illegible] [illegible] he will strive to profit by his [illegible] scholarship [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] all have been [illegible] [illegible] will yield to nothing but the [illegible] [illegible]

The humble [illegible] will [illegible] their [illegible] respect for age and authority and by a considerate regard for the rights and feelings of their [illegible] [illegible] of the weak and defenceless Conceit is [illegible] cruelty coarseness and brutality and at the best can only issue in [illegible] and [illegible] and sensuality

But it is altogether [illegible] and life and its purposes to undervalue the best gifts and attainments of human character to suppose that the mere mastering of [illegible] a pursuing of knowledge science and what we commonly call book learning is the sole or main purpose of a rightly ordered school Superior to all this and to which these are but the means and instrumentalities is the forming of a well balanced true pure and noble character And such a character a character that wise and good men will honor, a character that shall have power and influence for good and noble ends must have its foundations laid in this quality of humility And the boy must be trained and disciplined into this or its fruits and power will never come out in his manhood It is an old and accepted adage that he who would command must first learn to obey He who would rule others must first rule himself And no man or boy will rule himself without being taught in the school of humility There never was a time perhaps in the history of our race when there was greater need for enforcing these principles than at the present All movements incline to extremes In breaking away from the bondage and tyranny of past times we have now quite run into the opposite extreme of license and lawlessness. Specially observable is the restlessness of youth under discipline and control and especially often [illegible] the conceit and coarse and unmannerly ways frequently seen in the boys and young men of this generation One can not pay attention to the occurrences of the day in our schools and colleges without being impressed with the conviction that there is a wide spread spirit of lawlessness and resistance to authority in them that is fraught with evil for the future interests of society and the country The great difficulties that attend the management and conduct of our schools and colleges come not from want of scholarship or ability in professors and teachers but from the prevailing spirit of disorder frequently carried to mutiny and rebellion on the part of the pupils Quite fresh in our minds are recent difficulties of this character at Cornell Harvard and Amherst and within a few weeks over eighty students have been expelled from the University of Michigan and more recently still a hundred from Bowdoin College for disorderly and rebellious conduct And there are many other institutions of learning in this country some far away and some near by where without this notoriety and publicity this same spirit is an unceasing source of difficulty and serious damage to the pupils real interests It is a well known fact that in many of our prominent colleges and universities there is an acknowledged and to some extent organized condition of warfare between the pupils and the authorities The boys have come to regard their teachers—who are really seeking their good—as their worst enemies, and they are banded together to resist their authority and defeat their purposes at all hazards, and woe be to the luckless wight from a senior down to the smallest 'freshman' or primary who through weakness or fear should peach of their plans or pranks

In this condition of things who does not feel anxious for the future interests of our boys and in them for every other interest of the country?

That we should have here occasional manifestations of the same spirit is not to be wondered at It would indeed be very remarkable if we should not have them Habits fashions frames of mind conditions of social life and school life, like diseases are both epidemic and contagious What Eastern and older colleges and schools have we of course must have also Like the periodical time for marbles hoops and kites or for the measles and the mumps so every school must in its history go through the same fashions or fever—this same process of cleansing and purification

But never in my judgment shall we find the real cure for this state of things till we have re established by the hearty concurrence of parents and society, in the family and in the school the old fashioned discipline that comes of reverence for age, respect for authority and attainments deference to law and order, and a belief in this—that before honor is humility

Young men and boys of the Bishop Scott Grammar School my most anxious desire is that this Institution shall be to you a benefit and blessing more lasting than earth and time. It has been provided with every means and appliance to that end within our power Your teachers are animated by the same desire and labor to the same end but it is with you to give shape and color to the results of all their efforts We talk about "self made men" with a very narrow and limited meaning Every man is in a large sense, a self made man His character which is after all the only real and enduring thing that he has he has made himself and for himself There are many influences about him that have their agency in this work but the man or the boy himself shapes the end and is it That character no less enduring than eternity itself, you are largely making here here day by day and hour by hour It may be—indeed it is—unconsciously that this process goes on, but it does go on surely as the grass grows under your feet, or the trees above your head Most truthfully says a very thoughtful living writer—"Character grows for the most part, insensibly as the life grows at first Now and then it gets notable impulses which we can mark, but commonly it grows insensibly like our bodies It drinks in food like the tree from both earth and sky and from hidden sources in both, and like it, shows its whole history on boughs and branches from the first The sunshine and the storm the cold north wind and the soft south, the knife or the neglect write themselves all over life in its knots and gnarls, or smooth branches in its leaning this way or that in its stunted barrenness or broad shadows its bending fruitfulness or its moody wantonness Not a leaf but leaves its mark not a sunbeam but has told on it not a rain drop but has added to it The same tree that is soft and spongy in a fat swamp with its heavy air grows hard and noble on the hill side Spitzbergen forests are but breast high and Nova Scotia hemlocks mourn their cold wet sky in long weird shrouds of white moss. The influences round it are self registering Our spirits like the winds unconsciously write their story in all it tells on the anemometer—the Slowly in light airs, quickly in storms—all goes down little by little the whole comes in the end Single acts may show character but they seldom form it though some are supreme and ruling It grows ring by ring and the wood of this year becomes the bough of the next Our habits are another name for it and they grow like the grass The man's face lies behind the boy's, but it comes out only after a round of winters and summers" So true in that sublime conceit of Whittier's when he seemed to see all the beautiful pictures that Raphael had painted in his lifetime, gathered in one group around the immortal artist—

It was a simple print I saw
The fair face of a musing boy
Yet while I gazed a sense of awe
Seemed blending with my joy

* * * * * * *

Was it the lifting of that eye
The waving of that pictured hand?
Loose as a cloud wreath on the sky
I saw the walls expand

The narrow room had vanished—[illegible]
Broad [illegible] [illegible]
Through which the hues and shapes of grace
And beauty look'd or shone

Around the mighty master came
The marvels which his pencil wrought
Those [illegible] [illegible] whose fame
Is [illegible] [illegible] thought

Slow passed that vision from my view
But not the lesson which it taught
The soft calm shadows which it threw
Still rested on my thought

The truth that painter bard and sage
Even in earth's cold and changeful clime
Plant for their deathless heritage
The fruits and flowers of time

We shape ourselves the joy or fear
Of which the coming life is made

BOARD OF DELEGATES.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Delegates of the Portland Fire Department was held at the Police Court room last Saturday evening

Present—Delegates Andrus Moreland Campion, Hallock, Hoffman Holman Morgan, Wetsell Church and DuBois and Mr President

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved

The applications of W H Andrus and John Nation members of the Department for exempt certificates were read and referred, and the committee reporting favorably thereon the certificates asked for were granted

Applications for certificates of membership for newly elected members of No 1's and No 1's were read and certificates granted

The bill of A G Walling, for printing, was ordered paid

The Secretary was instructed to have the seal press of the Department repaired, and to purchase such stationery as is necessary for the use of his office

The monthly report of the Secretary for May was read and on motion adopted and placed on file

Mr Church from No 's stated that E J Ladd a member of the Board from that Company had resigned and Mr Church desired to know if official notice of the resignation should be given by the secretary of the Department before the Company held an election to fill the vacancy

The President decided that notice to the Company by the Delegates to the Company was sufficient

On motion, the Board proceeded to the election of a Second Assistant Engineer to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Mr Myer

C A Alisky and R Anderson were placed in nomination

The President appointed Messrs Hoffman and Moreland as tellers

On the first ballot C A Alisky received 8 votes R Anderson 2 votes and J J Meagher 1 vote

On the second ballot Mr Alisky received the unanimous vote of the members present—11 in all—and was declared duly elected

The matter of the failure to return badges by members who have resigned from the Department was discussed but no action was taken and the Board adjourned until the next regular meeting

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

Financial.

SATURDAY EVENING, June 6, 1874.

Gold in New York, 112.

Portland Legal Tenders, buying 89, selling 90.

Gold bars are quotable at 725a750 fine.

Exchange on New York, ½ per cent. premium for currency, and one per cent. premium for gold.

Exchange on San Francisco at ¾ of 1 per cent. premium.

Wheat in Liverpool, by mail advices from San Francisco, 12s 6d@12s 9d for average California, and 12s 9d@13s for club.

The news of a financial character from the East to-day is important and foreshadows a revolution which we hope will result in a permanent benefit to the trade interests of the country. The new Secretary of the Treasury starts out as if he meant business and we will soon see the evidence of his qualifications for his position. Should his success prove equal to his energy as manifested so far, the country will have no reason to regret the change, but in fact a change from Richardson could hardly be for the worse in any event.

Eastern exchanges inform us that the abundance of funds, and the small supply of commercial paper makes it necessary to accept accommodation notes, or retain money unused. The latter is undesirable, if dividends are to be declared, and thus the better class of accommodation paper is accepted. The entire situation is, however, very unsatisfactory. There is a lack of confidence—an unsettled condition of affairs, and the plethora of money is the outgrowth. An ample supply of currency available for business is one thing; but a plethora of currency resulting from a lack of business is a very different thing. And the latter represents the situation now.

In our local money market there are no new features, the strict scrutinizing of paper heretofore prevalent is relaxing to some extent, an indication of continued ease.

European Grain Trade.

Beerbohm's Corn Trade List of May 8th reports that grain crops throughout the United Kingdom continued to be reported favorably, wheat being the strongest of all the cereals. Imports into the United Kingdom during the week ending the 2d instant were 742,588 cwt, against 356,940 cwt the week preceding. There were, on the 7th ultimo, 283 cargoes of wheat on the way to the United Kingdom, computed to carry 1,263,330 qrs, against 1,311,600 qrs by 312 vessels at same time in 1873.

In France, according to the List, the appearance of the cereal crops was satisfactory. In some parts of Germany there had been seasonable cold weather, which had put a beneficial check on vegetation. From Hungary conflicting accounts had been received as to the condition of the growing wheat, there having been some frost. The appearance of the crops in the south of Russia was very promising. With the exception of Italy, where business was active, and prices of wheat had improved 9d@1s 3d per quarter, trade in all the Continental wheat centers had been quiet, and prices were well maintained.

Concerning the state of the English market, and speculating on probabilities, the List says:

> The stock of Wheat in London on the 30th April showed a decrease of about 67,000 qrs during the month of April, which difference is more serious than had been expected, nor can there be any doubt of a material decrease during the same month in the total stocks in the kingdom. The imports of Wheat and Flour into the United Kingdom during April, according to the final Government returns, amounts to 756,000 qrs: 42 cargoes, carrying 175,000 qrs, have gone to the Continent, which leaves only 581,000 qrs for home consumption, as stated above. During the months of May and June a further diminution is a matter of almost arithmetical certainty. The system of millers only buying from hand to mouth has on several former occasions proved of marvelous effect in making the smallest stocks suffice, and some confidence may no doubt be derived from the recollection of this experience; but the balance between the presumable supplies and demand run so close this year that any excess in the Continental demand, a delay in the harvest, the discovery of a still greater deficiency in farmers' stocks than is now generally believed, or a very marked falling off in the American shipments, might, it is evident, cause a great temporary disturbance in prices and form an exception to the above rule. The trade continues to act with a prudence which is very intelligible, and leaves prices at a point apparently safe under the circumstances, but which, of course, enhances in a corresponding degree the chances of prices going higher at some moment between this and harvest time.

Miscellaneous.

France last year produced 1,381,000 tons of pig iron, being 200,000 tons more than in 1862. Her production of steel was 167,677 tons, viz.: 64,444 tons cast steel and 103,233 tons Bessemer steel.

The production of wool in the United States during the past four years was: In 1870, 125,000,000 pounds; in 1871, 112,500,000 pounds; in 1872, 135,000,000 pounds; in 1873, 148,000,000 pounds.

A London telegram reports the arrival of the Concordia at Falmouth, the John Bright at Antwerp, and the Gustave at Hamburg, all from San Francisco, the last named via Mexico with cedar. The John Bright was the first wheat vessel sent direct from California to Antwerp.

California has shipped to Europe the equivalent of 415,000 tons of wheat since July 1, 1873. This, of course, includes some re-shipments of Oregon flour and wheat received at San Francisco from Portland. The season is virtually at an end, though enough more may be sent off to swell the total to 450,000 tons. The ship Granada has just completed loading a cargo of flour at Vallejo, and the Sea Witch has gone to Oakland to finish with wheat. Seven other vessels are in port at San Francisco under engagement for wheat, but most of them will wait over for the new crop.

The crop reports from all parts of the country, except the inundated region of Louisiana, are all exceedingly favorable. There will undoubtedly be a a large grain yield, and the cotton prospects are in every way promising

The Chicago Times has collected reports from all the cereal producing counties of the West, showing the prospects most encouraging for a very large yield of all cereals. This will be gratifying news to Eastern consumers.

Our wool market is the scene of much activity and considerable excitement. While we have known of none selling above 30 cents ℔ here, we learn from an exchange at Salem that a large lot was contracted at that place at 33⅓ cents. It must have been extra fine.

Philadelphia Wool Market.

PHILADELPHIA, June 5.—The wool market is dull and stock scarce. The quotations given are for old, new not yet arriving. Colorado washed, 25a30c; unwashed, 23@25c; extra merino pulled, 45@50c; No. 1 super pulled, 43a47; Texas fine medium, 25a35c; Texas coarse, 20@25c; California fine medium, 33@37c; coarse, 30a35c.

Shipping Intelligence.

We have but one sea going vessel now in port—the Mattie Macleay, from Honolulu. Several coasters are nearly due.

The steamship John L. Stephens, from San Francisco, will be due on Tuesday evening next.

MEDICAL.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE

NEW REMEDIES! NEW REMEDIES!

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY ST. NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Diseases of years standing and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing he has returned from visiting the principal hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary, 623 Kearney street corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies and has now greatly increased facilities for the alleviation of suffering.

Horrible Disease.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret disease, or from virus absorbed into the system; the pallid, emaciated and disgusted faces and broken-down constitutions, disqualify them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands go on until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, and all who tend to those who are suffering with these horrible, life-destroying maladies ... cared for and cured before it be too late, apply immediately to DR. GIBBON, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by taking the names of eminent physicians ... other places. Be therefore careful and make inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans.
